

STRIKE IS AVERTED

News of Mediation Brings Rejoicing Among Thousands of Residents of City.

LOSS PER DAY WOULD HAVE BEEN INCALCULABLE

Believed Here Erdman Act Will Apply and Trouble Will Be Amicably Settled.

Salt Lake is mighty glad that the threatened strike of railroad firemen and enginemen has been averted, temperarily, at least. When the bulle tin came Tuesday afternoon announcing that in all probability the threatened strike would not occur there was general rejoicing on the part of thousands of residents of this city.

It seemed to be the general opinion Tuesday night that the proposed strike would come within the jurisdiction of the Erdman act, and would be arbitrated accordingly. Despite the fact that the Erdman act is supposed to govern only federal cases, yel inasmuch as the threatened strike would affect interstate commerce, it is felt that the Erdman act would apply.

Loss Incalculable.

Loss Incalculable.

Loss Incalculable.

"What would such a strike cost Salt Lake per day?" was the question propounded to a number of business men of this city Tuesday.

"I wouldn't attempt to figure out the loss." was the general reply.

G. S. Holmes, one of the most prominent hotel men in this city, said it would be almost impossible to figure out the loss that would result from the interruption of transcontinental traffic which would have resulted if the firemen and enginemen had walked out, as men and enginemen had walked out, as threatened.

threatened.

'The hotels of Salt Lake would have suffered severely.' said Mr. Holmes Tnesday afternoon, 'but our loss would have been comparatively small. You must consider the amount of constructive material and food stuffs that would have been tied up. I would not attempt to figure out the loss per diem to this city if the trains running into Salt Lake were tied up.'

Other hotel proprieters in Salt Lake expressed similar views. expressed similar views,

No advance in prices was noted in No advance in prices was noted in the markets Tuesday, but the greers experienced rather heavy sales because of the report that the firemen and enginemen were to walk out at mid-night. Tuesday night there was a gen-eral belief in this city that the trouble would be settled amicably by arbitra-tion.

FIREMEN'S STRIKE DOES NOT EXCITE LOCAL OFFICIALS

The fremen's strike is at least temporarily postponed. Both sides have been willing to arbitrate the question of wages, but the railroads refused to arbitrate concerning certain rules of promotions applying to the engineers on the ground that the engineers are not involved and that when a fireman becomes an engineer be causes to be a fireman. Matters concerning engineers are between the railroads and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the railroads claim, and do not concern the firemen's union. In this position the railroads have the support of the engineers against the firemen, as the engineers profess to see in the demands of the firemen an attempt to abolish or slowly to absorb the engineers union by the firemen suming. When the firemen threatened Monday night to strike over practically the western two-thirds of the United States the time of the strike being Monday March 21, the railroads appealed under the Erdman law to the Washington authorities to act as mediators. To this all parties have agreed. This means that the federal officials will not at this time at least, attempt to arbitrate the disputes but will act as go-betweens and sort of arbitrate over the question of final arbitration. In other words, the federal officials will not at this time at least, attempt to arbitrate the disputes but will act as go-betweens and sort of arbitrate over the question of final arbitration. In other words, the federal officials will not at this time at least, attempt to arbitrate the disputes but will act as go-betweens and sort of arbitrate over the question of final arbitration, in other words, the federal officials will not at this time at least, attempt to arbitrate the disputes but will not a concession on the part of the railroads. They have receded from the position that the question of promotions could not be arbitrated if federal officials say so. Here the matter hangs at present, and the strike order has been suspended, but not revoked.

Depend on the Papers.

Depend on the Papers.

Final settlement of the whole matter s as far off as ever, but immediate dan-ger of a great strike has passed. It may be one or two weeks before the mat-ger of a great strike has passed. It may be one or two weeks before the matter becomes acute again.

In Salt Lake Monday the railroad officials and the firemen themselves knew nothing more concerning the strike matter than what they had read in the newspapers. Both sides depend blindly on their representatives in Chicago. On the whole, neither the railroad officials or the labor union officers or even the firemen themselves, thought there would be a zerious strike. All seemed to think that the matter would be settled somehow without such harsh measures.

Not knowing anything of importance concerning the immediate strike situation both railroad and labor union officials decilned to be quoted for publication, except to say in a few general terms that they did not seriously fear a strike. Only about 200 firemen running out of Salt Lake are affected. So far as the actual business of the day went, no one would have known that there was any idea of a strike abroad.

GOVERNMENT SUING DENVER & RIO GRANDE

Charge Is Violation of Federal Law Relative to Sheep Transportation.

A complaint was filed in the United States district court Tuesday by United States District Attorney H. E. Booth against the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad ompany, charging a violation of the fedearl law relative to the transportation of sheep. The government is suing to recover from the railroad company $1000 on two causes for action.

It is alleged in the complaint that six carloads of sheep and lambs, consigned to Pueblo, Colo., by A. Hannauer & Co. of this city, from Salina, Utah, were kept of tids city, from Salina, Utah, were kept in the cars without food and water for more than twenty-eight consecutive hours. Upon the arrival of the sheep at Pueolo, it is alleged, they were in a bad condition and had suffered considerably from the alleged mistreatment of the railroad company. It is to recover this damage that the suit was brought against the company. The suit is brought under an act of congress to prevent cruelty to animals in transit on railroads.
